Madagascar Radio Says Port of Brickaville Has Been Occupied

(By International News Service)
LONDON, Sept. 19.—All British columns advancing into the interior of Madagascar are making slow but continuous progress, a communiqué from East African headquarters announced today.

The British are converging on Tanarive, the island capital, from both the east and west coast, after four landing parties captured coastal ports with little opposition from the Vichy French forces in Madagascar.

The Madagascar radio reported today that a "British light force" has occupied the Indian Ocean port of Brickaville, due east of Tanarive. The British radio said in a broadcast heard by CBS. A landing earlier had been effected by the British Expeditionary Forces at Tamatave, another Madagascar east coast port.

By International News Service
Russian forces of all descriptions, from regular troops to citizen volunteers, fought grimly in the streets of Stalingrad today, driving back the invading enemy from the northwest outskirts of the city.

The heroic and determined character of the defense of the battered Volga river town was acknowledged by the Nazi-controlled Vichy radio which described the defense as "fanatical" and declared that Soviet women had taken up arms and were fighting with their men in the bloody street battles.

Dispatches from the front said the Soviet positions on the Volga were being held firmly following an enemy penetration Friday into several streets on the northwest outskirts. Throughout the day and into the night the Soviets rallied, with attack after attack, and forced the enemy to retreat.

Rescue Squad To Hold Outing Tomorrow Afternoon

Tomorrow the annual outing of the Bucks County Rescue Squad will be held at the Can Take It Club on State Road in Croydon. This is an annual event held by the Squad and it is eagerly anticipated each season.

The committees having the arrangements in charge have mapped out a program which will appeal to both young and old and an interesting time is expected.

There will be games and refreshments and the festivities will commence at one o'clock tomorrow afternoon and end at seven o'clock tomorrow evening.

The Rescue Squad is a worthy organization and solicits the support of the community.

Christian Fellowship League Meets at Newtown

The Men's Christian Fellowship League of Lower Bucks County met in Newtown Methodist Church Monday evening for the annual Father and Son night. There were 97 fathers and sons present. Recognition was given the oldest father present with his son, the oldest father present and the father with the most sons present.

Howard Smoyer, of Bristol, former president of the Fellowship League, being the father of the youngest son, five weeks old, was given a shower of gifts for his son.

The program consisted of accordion solos by Walter Reigner and a vocal solo by Rev. Buzzard. The speaker, Dr. Walter H. Mohr, of George School, gave a stirring message on the world's greatest need in these momentous days.

Twelve churches of different denominations from the lower end of the county were represented.

The evening concluded with a social time in Wesley Hall.

Discussing the subject of inflation at a meeting of the Newtown Exchange Club in the Temperance House, Newtown, a few nights ago, County Treasurer Samuel L. Althouse, who recently became a resident of Newtown, stressed the point that the public must not think only in terms of stopping inflation, but it must start a program of lowering prices so that after the war prices will be on a level with the rest of the world.

Continuing, he said there must be a willingness on the part of the public to make great sacrifices during the war.

A former resident of Sellersville, Mr. Althouse gave his impressions of Newtown, and compared the town to his former place of residence. Mr. Althouse also read a number of clippings from magazines to illustrate mistakes which appear in them.

The brief business session prior to the talk by Mr. Althouse was in charge of the president, Robert LaRue.

With 25 Air Raid Wardens, five Boy Scouts of Troop No. 24, and five men, representing various County Seat churches taking part, the County Seat's Monument Square salvage and scrap heap was increased with 15 tons of scrap iron, ten tons of paper and cardboard and one ton of tin cans.

The paper and cardboard and tin cans, however, were not dumped on the salvage heap located in mid-town but deposited elsewhere.

It took four hours and 19 truck loads to collect all the salvage from various points in the County Seat.

Paper and tin cans were much better prepared and the salvage committee feels that a larger volume of cans is being taken care of since the latest instructions were handed to the householders last week.

The tin cans are being stored at the Doylestown Fair Grounds and should be placed in cartons to prevent re-handling.

TRUCK-DRIVERS ARE CALLED THE FIRE FIGHTING GOOD SAMARITANS OF HIGHWAY

(Note: This is the fifth and last of a series of five stories on fire protection and prevention of special interest at this time when the greatest care must be taken to guard against fires that may impede war production.—INS.)

By Delbert Johnson
(Safety Research Institute)
(Written Especially for I. N. S.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—(INS)—If your car catches fire on the highway, chances are a passing truck driver will be the Good Samaritan who comes to your rescue.

The Interstate Commerce Commission requires all private and common carriers under its jurisdiction to be equipped with fire extinguishers approved for use on gasoline, oil and electrical fires.

"Approved" means that the extinguishers must carry the inspection label of the Underwriters' Laboratories, and the types that fulfill the I. C. C. requirements are either the vaporizing liquid (carbon tetrachloride base) or carbon dioxide types. Both types will put out burning liquids and are non-conductors of electricity.

The purpose of this rule is obvious—to cut down the large number of fires that destroy trucks, many of which carry highly flammable cargoes. But a happy by-product of this regulation is the added protection that it provides for all automobile traffic.

A BRISTOL SCRAP QUIZ

Many questions are being asked since it was decided that Bristol should have a drive to collect scrap metals and scrap rubber for the government. Some of these questions are printed herewith, with the answers.

The Bristol drive for scrap metals and scrap rubber will open September 25th and end October 12th. Every man, woman and child is urged to join in the effort. Residents outside of Bristol who have scrap and want to donate it to the Bristol drive may do so.

Here is Bristol's Scrap Quiz:

Q. Why should salvage material pass through the hands of junk dealers instead of going straight to war production factories?

A. Scrap must be properly sorted, graded, prepared and packed, and accumulated in lots large enough to ship efficiently, before it can be used by mills. Only the junk dealer has the experience and equipment to do this. Industrial plants using materials have always depended on him for this important processing.

Q. How can one be sure that the junk dealers won't hold the scrap to get higher prices?

A. The junk dealer cannot get higher prices by holding, since ceilings have been placed by the government on prices at which he can sell to consuming mills. A well-run junk yard will always have a certain amount of scrap on hand which is being prepared. It is also necessary to accumulate enough of each grade so that economical shipments can be made. An empty junk yard produces no scrap. Any dealer who hoards is subject to requisitioning by the government.

Q. Are there ceiling prices on all scrap and waste materials?

A. The government has fixed ceiling prices regulating sales to consuming mills by grades and classifications for all important waste materials. There is no limitation on selling at prices below the ceilings. Ceilings have been established for iron and steel scrap, nonferrous metals, rubber scrap, burlap bags, rags, old manila rope, waste paper, etc.

Q. Why doesn't the government prescribe prices which junk dealers will pay for scrap?

A. There are too many factors involved to make this practical. The value of junk in a house or on a farm depends upon its condition and the cost of transporting it to market. Naturally, the price ceilings limit the amount which junk dealers can afford to pay.

Q. Why doesn't the government collect junk?

A. The government is collecting scrap iron and rubber on farms where junk dealers are not normally available. In most places the collection

Improving Methodist Church at Langhorne

LANGHORNE, Sept. 19.—Extensive improvements are being made to the property of the Langhorne Methodist Church.

The four evergreen trees have been removed from the front of the church building, and the lawn in front of the edifice is to be landscaped. The two round pillars in front are being replaced by square ones.

Both the exterior and the interior of the church are to be painted, and a new illuminated bulletin board will replace the board now doing service in front of the edifice.

The interior of the church is to have a new lighting system installed, and the Sunday School room is to be painted and supplied with new chairs.

GRAND JURY REJECTS COMMISSIONERS' IDEA OF DESIGN FOR SPAN

Recommends That Design
Maintain Aesthetic Value of Existing Bridge

INSPECTS PROPERTIES
Finds Conditions at County Prison To Be Very Satisfactory

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 19.—The Bucks County Grand Jury for the September term of criminal court, yesterday turned down the plan submitted by the Bucks County Commissioners for a new reinforced concrete bridge over Piddock's Creek on the Buckingham-Solebury township line leading from Lahaska to Buckmanville, but made another recommendation for a new bridge of different design.

The present plan of the Commissioners was disapproved in the report of the Grand Jury filed in the Court of Quarter Sessions. The Grand Jury recommended the following after turning down the plans for a concrete bridge to replace the present stone arch bridge:

"We approve the building of a new bridge to take the place of present Bridge No. 162, but recommend that its design not only conforms with the requirement of the highway but maintains the aesthetic value of the old bridge.

"These stone arch bridges have long been a contributing factor in the beauty of Bucks county, and we suggest that when it becomes necessary to replace them that their distinctive values in the landscape be retained by the construction of bridges of the same general design or of comparable aesthetic value."

The report is signed by Otto Grupp, Jr., Bristol, realtor, as foreman of the Grand Jury, and Helen C. Murray, Feasterville, as secretary.

The objection to the erection of a concrete bridge was voiced before the Grand Jury by Philip L. Davidson, of "Etcheonda," a resident of the community in which the bridge is located.

The Grand Jury also reported that 55 of the 66 bills of indictment before them at the September term were found to be true bills and six not true bills.

They visited the Bucks County Prison and found "everything clean and sanitary," but recommended the installation of one steam jacket and a new stove in the kitchen. The Grand Jury complimented Warden Earl D. Handy on his canning project.

The Jury visited the Bucks County Home and found it "clean and sanitary." The jurors reported however that they "believed it absolutely necessary to install an elevator in the main building."

Men to act as airplane spotters are needed at once to man the post which Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 382, American Legion, is maintaining at South Bristol. "We are in desperate need of men to take certain shifts," said Earl McEuen, who is chief of the Post.

The ranks of spotters are being depleted by men going into the army, young men returning to school and others who have had their work shifts changed so that they can no longer perform the duties of spotters.

REPORTS FOR DUTY WED.

A third member of the Bucks County Bar Association has gone into the United States Military Service. Today William J. Begley, Esq., assistant trust officer of the Bristol Trust Company, received word of having been commissioned as a lieutenant, junior grade, in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

Mr. Begley is ordered to report at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station in Illinois. He will leave Bristol on Wednesday. Mr. Begley enlisted some time ago, but did not receive word to report until today.

Mr. Begley is a member of the Bucks County Bar and also the District of Columbia Bar Association. He is an active member of the Bristol Rotary Club and had just started to organize the Bristol Scrap Drive.

Bristol Hebrews To Observe Yom Kippur

Yom Kippur or the Day of Atonement is the holiest day in the Jewish year. The day begins tomorrow evening (the eve of the tenth day of the month, Tishri, of the Jewish calendar) and is concluded at sunset of the following day.

Bristol Hebrews will hold a proper observance.

It is a day of atonement and fasting a time set aside for the individual to confess and repent of his sins and to seek atonement for the wrongs he has committed against God and man. The day is devoted entirely to prayer and meditation in the synagogue. A memorial service for the dead in the afternoon service, and the blowing of the shofar, the ram's horn, at the conclusion of the day, are impressive sections of the synagogue service.

This holiest of days is ushered in at the beginning of the evening service by a prayer, Kol Nidrei, widely known because of its specific traditional music. It concludes with a service called "the closing of the gates," recalling the closing of the Temple gates at Jerusalem, and symbolizing the closing of the great day of prayer.

The keynote of Yom Kippur is the divine assurance that guilt can be atoned for by penitence, prayer, and righteous action. Each individual must pray for himself. This concept follows the inherent democracy in Judaism which considers all men equal before their Maker.

The festival is observed for one day. Legend says that on Rosh Ha-shonah every individual passes in judgment before the Lord and that on the Day of Atonement his fate for the coming year is sealed, signifying that the genuineness of his penitence and atonement determine his life.

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS

Boston—Federal labor officials prepared today for swift action to avert a threatened strike of 1,700 street car and bus operators of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company, serving 29 cities and 51 towns.

The operators, members of the Amalgamated Association of Electric Street Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America, AFL, cast ballots in a strike vote, the results of which will be known later today, union officials said.

The major item in the dispute is a demand for a 20 cents an hour wage increase, bringing the operator's hourly base pay to $1.10.

Germans Admit Soviet Attack

Berlin—The Nazi High Command acknowledged today that Russian troops were attacking the Germans from the north in an attempt to relieve pressure on Stalingrad, but claimed Soviets who penetrated German positions were wiped out.

The Nazis concede, however, that the Russians were putting up a "stubborn resistance" at Stalingrad. The battle, however, was said to be "continuing successfully."

London—A large force of RAF bombers last night mined enemy waters and attacked shipping along the Dutch coast, while fighter planes attacked French railroads, the British Air Ministry announced today. Five bombers failed to return, it was revealed.

RATION BOARD CALLS IN 'C' BOOKS ISSUED IN ERROR

Must Be Returned and Exchanged for "B" Books
Within Five Days

OPA ISSUES ORDERS

Gasoline Dealers, in Many Instances, Are Said To Be Disobeying Laws

The Bristol Rationing Board is sending out notices to those salesmen who in the early stages of the rationing period received "C" books by mistake, to return such books to the office of the Board within five days and receive in return "B" books extended for a period of three months. The Board seriously objected to this action because it felt that the corrections could be made at the time of the re-registration to be held in six weeks but was forced to meet the issue now.

A member of the Board said that "gasoline stations in many instances are ignoring the laws and the OPA is starting an investigation and some are under suspicion. It appears that some dealers are accepting 'S' coupons which are issued for trucks and busses and placing the gas in the tanks of pleasure cars. Others are receiving loose coupons and do not check with the book in the possession of the owner. Still others are accepting coupons from the 'B' books several weeks before they can lawfully be released.

No effort is made to check itinerant or traveling cars to ascertain whether the license number on the car agrees with the number on the book. All these acts are unlawful and if the OPA agents in their investigation discover evidence of guilt against any dealer the owner will be faced with a $10,000 fine.

The Board will move in a few days into its new office at Farragut avenue and Monroe street. A number of changes will be made in the property and when completed the Board should have a well equipped office. One of the improvements will be the segregation of the applicants so that those wanting sugar rations will apply at a designated place, those wanting tires and tubes at a different location, while gasoline rationing which is the largest proposition and the hardest to handle, will occupy a place in the center of the office. By this arrangement it is hoped to greatly accelerate the work of handling the large crowds that are expected when the second registration takes place in October.

This new location will be more easily accessible than the old one and the large space for parking on both streets will be a decided advantage.

Mrs. William Seiger Dies At Her Home in Croydon

Anna E., wife of William Seiger, died at her home in Croydon yesterday. Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral Monday morning at nine o'clock from the late residence of the deceased on Sixth avenue, below State Road, Croydon. There will be high mass at ten o'clock in St. Thomas Aquinas Church, Croydon.

Burial will be in St. Mark's Cemetery under the direction of George Molden.

Friends may call tomorrow evening.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan
(I. N. S. Staff Writer)

The "unknown soldier" of this war is a Canadian.

You keep hearing about the gallant British, the brave Russians, the courageous Chinese and then you see a headline that stops you cold.

"3,350 Canadians killed, wounded or captured at Dieppe."

3,350 Canadians out of total population of 11 million—about as many persons as live in New York City and Chicago.

Suppose the headline read "New York and Chicago lose 3,350 in one battle."

You know what they say in Canada about their loss? "It was necessary to secure information vital to the United Nations."

That's all. They knew the probable price before they undertook the raid and they paid it. They're not whimpering. They're not moaning.

They lost another thousand men at Hong Kong and took it the same way. Could we?

Thought for the day: Brave Canada.

Miss Anne Hoffman Becomes
Bride of Ensign Robert Hunt

At an attractive ceremony this morning in St. Mark's Church at ten o'clock, Miss Anne Hoffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hoffman, 650 Pine street, became the bride of Ensign Robert Hunt, of Trenton, N. J. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. Paul Baird.

The wedding took on a distinctly military atmosphere as the church was decorated with the American flag, the parish service flag and the church flag. There were red American Beauty roses on the altar. The groom wore his uniform as an ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve Air Corps.

The attendants of the bride were Miss Blanche Hoffman, sister of the bride, serving as maid-of-honor, and Miss Ellen Gallagher serving as bridesmaid. Leon Hunt, brother of the groom, was best man while two other brothers, John and William Hunt acted as the ushers.

The bride was attired in a white saile bengaline gown, with a high neckline, sweetheart yoke and a tight fitted bodice from which the voluminous skirt cascaded out in fullness. The sleeves on the gown were edged with white French velvet and hand-made Irish lace. The two tiered skirt and train stood out crisply and was accented by rows of stitching. She wore a white orchid in her hair, from which fell a finger tip veil of imported English silk illusion. The bride wore white kid slippers and carried a rosary and a white prayer book.

The gowns of the maid-of-honor and bridesmaid were styled after that of the bride with the exception of the trimming and the sleeves. The yoke of Miss Hoffman's gown was outlined in royal blue French velvet ribbon, while Miss Gallagher's was trimmed with red French velvet ribbon. The sleeves of both gowns were deftly tucked at the elbow making them elbow length and being very full above. The head-dresses of the attendants were unique in as much as they were tiny skull caps trimmed with a pair of white feather wings forming a victorious "V" with Miss Hoffman's being blue and Miss Gallagher's red.

As the bridal party entered the church Miss Katherine Keating, the church organist, played Lohengrin's "Wedding March." The soloists were Miss Alice Rafferty and Miss Margaret Fallon. Prior to the ceremony, Miss Rafferty sang "Because" and during the mass, "Mother of Christ." Miss Fallon sang Rosiewicz's "Ave Maria." At the conclusion of the mass, Miss Rafferty sang "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother."

The bride's mother, Mrs. James Hoffman, wore a blue crepe dress with black hat and a corsage of white carnations.

There was a wedding breakfast served at the Bowen Restaurant, following the ceremony for the immediate members of the family. This was followed by a reception which was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Today's Quiet Moment

(By the Rev. James R. Galley)

Pastor, Bristol Presbyterian Church

O God, who alone canst uphold the minds of men, without whose beauty and goodness our souls are unfed, without whose truthfulness our reasons wither; consecrate our lives to thy will, giving us such purity of heart, such depth of faith, such steadfastness of purpose, that we might truly have within us the mind of Jesus and think thine own thoughts after thee, thus making our lives to be in supreme accord with the divine will. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The couple left after the reception for New York, where they will spend their honeymoon. The bride selected as her travelling costume a black dress, a small black hat, and she wore white orchids. Upon their return the couple will reside at Norfolk, Va., where Ensign Hunt is stationed.

The bride is a graduate of Bristol High School and the groom graduated from Cathedral High School, Trenton, and LaSalle College in Philadelphia.

The bride presented her attendants with rosaries and pearls, while the groom gave his attendants Buxton wallets.

ON THE SCREENS

GRAND THEATRE

Starting tomorrow, the Grand Theatre will show Warner Bros.' newest action-packed film, "The Big Shot," starring Humphrey Bogart. It is a swift-paced story of a one-time underworld big shot who has to take taunts from the mugs to whom he once gave orders.

Bogart plays the role of the has-been gangster who makes one last desperate bid for the power he had before his third stretch up the river. It is a role to which only Humphrey Bogart could do full justice. Appearing opposite him is lovely, blonde Irene Manning, who makes her film debut in "The Big Shot." She is cast as Bogart's sweetheart who because of financial difficulties had to marry a wealthy lawyer when Humphrey was sent to prison for the third time.

Lewis Seller directed the original screen play which was written by Bertram Millhauser, Abem Finkel and Daniel Fuchs.

EDGELY-VOLTZ NINES TO MEET TOMORROW IN EXHIBITION GAME

Contest Will Be Played On The Diamond at Edgely, Starting at 3 P. M.

ARE KEEN RIVALS

Gasoleers Still Not Convinced That Edgelyites Are The Better Team

Edgely and Voltz-Texaco, the contesting teams of the recently completed Bristol Suburban League series, will meet again tomorrow afternoon in an exhibition game on the Edgely diamond. Game will begin at three o'clock.

Edgely won the series which was stretched to five games, the last game going ten innings. The Edgelyites were supposed to have played an exhibition game with another team tomorrow but this was called off.

Hearing of the postponement, the Voltz-Texaco nine challenged the 1942 Suburban League champions, to a game. The gasoleers still aren't convinced that the Edgelyites could beat them and threw the challenge. Edgely promptly accepted and the game was arranged.

It is most likely that Ralph Linck will do the tossing for the Edgely with Turner Ashby held in reserve. Linck won two of the playoff games while Ashby won the other. "Reds" Gallagher will most likely throw them up for the Voltz boys. Gallagher gave two brilliant exhibitions against the Edgely boys. There is also a possibility that "Loggie" Bragg may go against Edgely team. Bragg was doing excellent work in the final game of the series until "Billy" Leigh stole home to win the game.

The remainder of the line-ups of the teams will be intact with Balocchi, John Dougherty, Tazik and Cooper covering the infield for Voltz. Mazzillo will be behind the plate with the outfield having Berry, Kramens and Hibbs. Edgely will have Jesse Vanzant behind the plate with Leigh, Johnny Dick, Doster, and Felkner in the infield. The outfield will be composed of: Dewsnap, Hunter and Rockhill.

DETWEILER JOINS THE BOSTON BRAVES

Robert "Ducky" Detweiler, former Quakertown high school athlete, who was purchased by the Boston Braves after a most successful season with the Evansville Three-I League club, has joined the National club in Boston following the elimination of Evansville in the Three-I League playoffs.

Evansville, which finished in third place, was eliminated from the playoffs in five games, losing the finale to Cedar Rapids, the pennant winners, by a 5-4 score last Monday evening.

During the regular season Detweiler batted around .342, finishing third among the regular performers. He also led the league in runs-batted-in with 196 and had 15 home runs. His defensive work at third base was also outstanding, and he was named to the league's all-star nine.

Detweiler, who was purchased by the Boston Nationals recently, made his debut in the National League on Saturday in the double-header with Pittsburgh in Beantown. He also played in the double-bill with the Chicago Cubs Sunday.

He has gone to bat 22 times, collected eight hits, including five singles, a double and a triple, with three runs batted in and three scored. His batting average to date is .364. Ducky has committed two errors in ten chances.

Detweiler is playing third base for the Braves in place of Tony Cuccinello.

800 LARGE-MOUTH BASS PUT IN CANAL

Eight hundred largemouth, or black bass, were stocked in the Canal yesterday morning. The bass, between three and four inches in length, were placed at appropriate spots in the Canal in the 10-mile stretch between Morrisville and Bristol.

Harry Coles, district Fish Warden, accompanied the truck which was sent here from the Pleasant Mount Hatchery.

Coles stated that the waters at Maple Beach, on the Rohm & Haas Co. property, are also scheduled for stocking later this fall.

Truck-Drivers Are Called Samaritans of Highway

They all might have burned to death. A similar incident occurred early this year near Bloomer, Wisconsin, when a bus loaded with 30 students and five teachers skidded on an icy pavement and crashed into a culvert, setting fire to the engine. A truck driver who saw the accident came running with an extinguisher, and after putting out the blaze, broke the windows and helped the injured people out. Similar accidents happen almost daily.

There may be poetic justice in the fact that roadside stands and taverns—those havens of rest and relaxation for weary drivers—share in the protection afforded by extinguisher-equipped trucks. These places frequently are far removed from the nearest public fire department, and often are completely unprepared to cope with even a small kitchen blaze. But stance—not an eating place—will it their owners feel some sense of security in knowing that all they have to do is hail a passing truck to get "first aid."

Taking their cue from experiences such as these, many states and municipalities equip police cars with hand extinguishers approved by the Underwriters' for use on automobile fires. Like truck drivers, cruising cops are ever on the alert for highway trouble, and in many cases one policeman has been able to hold a fire in check while another summoned the nearest fire department or ambulance service.

nacle." A complete setting of the Old Testament Tabernacle was shown, including the altars of sacrifice, the mercy seat and the Holy of Holies. Incense fumes arose from this altar. The priests were shown and also some worshippers. The scripture verse "This is the victory over your faith" was made with nickels.

Trevose had a large "V" in the center of the "V" was a cross. Below was the picture of a child saying grace at table.

The Newtown group had an appropriate design made of red, white and blue cans of soup to form a large V. The program of the meeting which preceded the festival was as follows: "Are Ye Able," group singing; Scripture reading, Miss Alice Martin, Trevose; prayer, Rev. James H. Bailey, Trevose; "Be Still My Soul," group singing; solo, "Somewhere a Voice is Calling," Leslie Rogers, Harriman Church; announcements and offering; solo, "Sunshine of Your Smile," Leslie Rogers; "Above the Hills of Time a Cross is Gleaming," group singing.

Following a business session and roll call, the speaker of the evening was introduced.

W. Vernon Middleton, of the City Mission and Church Extension of the Philadelphia Conference spoke upon the subject "Making Your Religion Real." This talk was on missionary work and city mission experiences. In speaking of the young people he said: "The Young People of Methodism will not fail the church, but instead of quoting Scripture only, will get Scripture in their heart. There is no substitute for the peace of God in the heart. Don't be satisfied with imitation religion but get the real thing."

Following the benediction, refreshments were served.

building," and also recommended a canopy with a forced draft be installed over the stove in the kitchen of the men's building.

Two cribs, some books, games, toys and other general playroom equipment was recommended for the juvenile section of the County Home.

Visiting the Court House, the Grand Jury reports finding "very overcrowded conditions in several offices." But due to war conditions, the jury recommended this matter over for the duration. Better lighting was recommended in all offices in the Court House, in addition to a first aid equipment for the ladies' jury room.

A fan and full length screens were also recommended for the Grand Jury room.

Going through the Bucks County Administration, the Grand Jury found it "very adequate," but recommended that proper signs be placed on the office doors of the second floor.

ner. He is 21 years old and attended the Bensalem Township high school. Chapman has been promoted since the Midway engagement and is now a corporal and took part in the Solomon Islands battle.

In letters written to his parents, Chapman expresses much pleasure over army life.

A younger brother, John W. Chapman, is also in the Army Air Corps, having enlisted December 10th, 1941. He was also a student of Bensalem Township high school.

The two boys are the only children of the Chapmans.

grid team, is believed to be safe despite a rumor to the contrary. Members of his family said the report that he was a war victim is probably in error since he had been attached to the destroyer Calhoun instead of the transport Calhoun. The transport was reported sunk with the loss of many lives, which probably started the rumor about Wahl. In June Wahl was on convoy duty in the vicinity of Pearl Harbor. He enlisted in the Navy about a year ago. While he was in the service he still found time to play for a while with the local grid semi-pros. The Greenjackets have suspended schedule for the duration of the war.

Doylestown's eating and drinking places that have not been complying with the health laws relating to cleanliness, have undergone a thorough housecleaning, and with a very few exceptions now compare favorably with the best kept inns, restaurants and tap rooms in the County Seat.

With possibly only one exception, owners have co-operated 100 per cent with the Board of Health in carrying out the health laws. In only one instance—not an eating place—will it be necessary for the board to prosecute if the owner does not make certain changes to his place within five days.

"I want to commend the attitude now taken by those who have been sort of careless in the past," declared Dr. John J. Sweeney, president of the Board of Health, who together with other members of the Board, visited a number of local places on an inspection tour.

CROYDON

A miscellaneous shower was given to Miss Dorothy Doyle on Tuesday evening at her home. Her mother, Mrs. Lewis Simons and grandmother, Mrs. George Smith, Sr., were the hostesses. The living and dining rooms were beautifully decorated with pink streamers and candy filled baskets were given as favors. Miss Doyle was the recipient of many lovely gifts. The guests included: Mrs. Charles Simon and Miss Mildred Simon, Phila.; Mrs. Harry Hartley and Mrs. Robert Marshall, Trevose; Mrs. Raymond Wink, Eddington; Mrs. Pearl Loebbeck, Morrisville; Mrs. John Wichser, Mrs. Phyllis Edwards, Mrs. William Simons, Mrs. Leonard Simons, Bristol; Mrs. Edward Hancock, Warrington; Mrs. Elmer Storms, Mrs. George Smith, Jr., Miss Ruth Smith, Mrs. Lewis Simons and Mrs. George Smith, Sr.

Mrs. Charles Haegele and son have returned home from the Abington Hospital on Tuesday. Mrs. E. Durgin, Langhorne Manor, spent a few days at the home of Mrs. Gordon Roberts. On Monday, Mrs. Roberts and daughter Louis attended a class reunion and Alumni dinner at Colmar, Pa.

On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Sharpless entertained Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Whitley and Mr. and Mrs. C. Dannenhowe, North Wales, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weckerly, Philadelphia. Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Fox entertained Mr. and Mrs. Sharpless at dinner recently.

NEWPORTVILLE

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lambert, Maple Avenue, Fergusonville, was baptized Lee Warren, at his home, by the Rev. Kohlmeier, of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, Croydon. Mrs. Thomas Fleming, an aunt of the baby, of West Oak Lane, and Warren Van Arsdale, A. S. U. S. N., a cousin, were the sponsors. Later, a dinner was served at the Lambert home.

Mrs. Churchley, New Rogers Road, had the misfortune to run a nail in her foot, and is convalescing at her daughter's home in Croydon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Nesbitt, Ford Road, expect to move to Philadelphia next week.

EMILIE

Mrs. Benjamin B. Paul was a recent visitor of Mrs. Ida Cooper, Jackson street, Bristol, and a Saturday evening guest of Mrs. May Holmes, also of Bristol.

Men Urgently Needed As 'Plane Spotters'

have been saying that they would like to do "their bit" in this war. Some of these men are now offered an opportunity to aid and the need is great.

The Airplane Spotters Post is working 24 hours a day and seven days each week. It takes a lot of people to keep the service going. "There is a long list of women who have volunteered and who are doing a good job, but men are needed for shifts on which the women cannot conveniently work."

If you are a man and eager to help in the war effort, contact Mr. McEuen at 268 Harrison street, or telephone 480 and offer your services. It is suggested that you act at once. The spot-ter's duty is very important and the Post must not be left unmanned for a single hour. Mr. McEuen says "the need is great," and pleads for volunteers.
